Products You Can Negotiate a Lower Price On:

Always have the habit of negotiating products for a lower price, and when you are negotiating for a product at Best Buy, keep the following in mind:

Listen to the salesperson: Listen to the salesperson clearly while negotiating, as they will often steer you to brands on which they can lower their price.

Look for damaged packaging: You can easily get discounts when there is damage in the packaging, as this will increase the brand's sales because the brand's fault does not get highlighted in this case.

The more expensive the item, the better:

It is all a game of profit margins. At Best Buy, you can easily get discounts as lower as the price on a $3,000 75" HDTV than they are on a 32" HDTV priced below $250.
